

National Wheelchair
Basketball Association

Coaching Education and Training Program

Level I

This program is made possible through a generous grant from the Craig H. Neilsen Foundation

Established in 2002, the Craig H. Neilsen Foundation is the largest private foundation dedicated to improving the quality of life for those living with spinal cord injury (SCI), by supporting innovative program services, specialty training and research on effective therapies, interventions and treatments, leading to a cure. Today, the Foundation funds SCI scientific research (basic, translational, clinical and psychosocial research); quality of life programs; postdoctoral and SCI medicine fellowships; and other projects to support the SCI community throughout the United States and Canada.

Level I Objectives

- Understand the importance of an athlete centered, mastery based coaching philosophy
- Understand the classification system, rules of and foundational skills needed for wheelchair basketball and how to teach them
- Understand the terminology and cue words used in wheelchair basketball and the importance of standardizing their use
- Understand the need for individual, small group and team skills and drills development
- Understand the importance of game-like drills that require decision making

Level I Objectives

- Understand the role of feedback in enhancing skill development
- Understand possible modification to rules and equipment based on age/functional ability
- Understand disability specific issues related to training and injury prevention
- Understand the role of sport in activities of daily living (ADL)
- Understand the basic tenants of program development and athlete recruitment and retention
