Frequently Asked Questions

Q: What is TIER 1 AAA Hockey and how does it differ from my local association?

A: TIER 1 AAA Hockey is a classification of hockey that surpasses the A level of competition found typically at the local youth hockey level. Strong, dedicated, elite level players from multiple communities come together to compete at a high level against other AAA teams. Levels of play are determined by a standardized system based on player birth years. (Example: 1999 AAA team will consist of players born in the year 1999)

Q: How do tryouts for the Jr. Gamblers work? A: Tryouts are open to any player and usually consist of two or more sessions. We use a panel of evaluators composed of the head coach, qualified independent evaluators assigned by the hockey director and the hockey director himself. Following the last session, players will be notified regarding tryout results and next steps.

Q: When are tryouts for the season and where do I get more info?

A: Tryout information for the upcoming hockey season can be found at www.jrgamblers.com beginning in April. Once registration for tryouts opens, players must register online at www.jrgamblers.com for their teams tryout.
