EMBRACE

USA Fencing is committed to excellence, mutual respect and teamwork. The brand builds on rich traditions while promoting the sport as a modern, dynamic activity for athletes of all ages. As your board member, I pledge to embrace these traditions and will work to ensure the USA Fencing brand is well-protected against risks to its value and reputation.

I believe the role of this governing body is to protect the USA Fencing brand and its athletes by advocating for clarity, transparency and the highest standards of ethical conduct in all its actions.

My experience as the director of business development for HUB International, the 4th largest global risk, human capital and retirement consulting firm, lends expertise and credibility to USA Fencing governance activities.

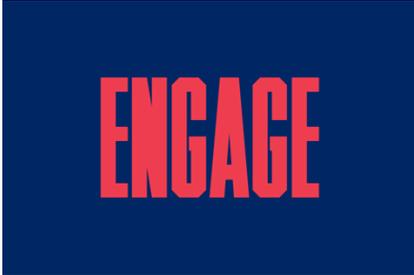

ENERGIZE

The growth and worldwide appeal associated with USA Fencing has been tremendous. Over 40,000 amateur athletes compete safely under the banner of this organization.

As your board member, I pledge to promote the growth of the sport, finding ways to reach out to under-served communities and welcome all interested athletes. I believe USA Fencing can help foster a life-long love of fencing for everyone.

Watching athletes transform themselves through participation in fencing underscores the need to share this opportunity to all communities across the country.

ENGAGE

Welcoming new athletes to the joy of fencing is just the beginning. We need to make sure it's possible to stay meaningfully engaged, and that fencers and their families can afford to continue their fencing journey.

As your board member, I will work to raise the visibility of fencing and engage new local and national corporate sponsors. I believe that fencing is a sport sponsors will be proud to associate with, and new financial and marketing relationships can create dynamic economic support for the organization and its members.

My skills and proven experience in business development, particularly with large-scale financial transactions, coupled with my risk management background, will help create smart new opportunities, new introductions and new relationships for USA Fencing.
