Refereeing rugby is rewarding

What do you need in order to referee?

It starts by completing a World Rugby Level One Officiating course. The course includes online courses, in-class sessions, on-field sessions and part of the course requires you to demonstrate your understanding and comprehension of refereeing in a tournament environment. While you are refereeing your first matches, you will be supported by one of our Edmonton Rugby referee coaches, referee educators or senior referee mentors. You will be provided with immediate feedback on your first efforts to help you improve your refereeing skills.

When are the Level One Officiating courses taking place and when are the tournaments?
