- Getting your shot off quicker
- Shooting off of screens- (flares, fades, ball & down screens)
- Improving your range
- Shooting off of the dribble/transition
- Creating your own shot

Camp Director Joel Whymer- (Wayne State University Assistant Women's Basketball Coach)

My individual training philosophy is focused on improving shooting the basketball. Every player that trains with me will get a full evaluation on their shot and a plan for improvement. There is an extra emphasis on footwork and building a strong foundation for shooting consistency. My goal for each student I work with is to have them master the basics and build their shot into a natural movement that requires little thinking when they play in a game situation.
