Coaching & Playing Experience

I have been playing volleyball since I was 10 years old. I have been coaching for 3 years

Why do you coach?

I coach volleyball because it's more than just a sport to me; it's my passion and my lifestyle. Volleyball has always been my favorite hobby, and over time, it's become a part of who I am. I love sharing everything I've learned with others, helping them grow not only as players but as individuals. Coaching gives me the chance to inspire, teach, and pass on the values that this sport has taught me; teamwork, discipline, resilience, and joy. Watching others fall in love with the game the way I did is one of the most rewarding experiences.

Fun facts about you

I'm originally from Colombia, and I'm proud of my roots!

I work as a math teacher, and I love making numbers come alive for my students.

I'm passionate about traveling and exploring new places and cultures is always exciting.

I love spending time outdoors, especially going to the beach and camping with my family. Nature is my happy place!

Coaching Philosophy or Style?

My coaching philosophy is centered around passion, growth, and connection. I believe volleyball is more than just a sport; it's a lifestyle that teaches discipline, teamwork, and resilience. My style is energetic and supportive. I strive to create a positive environment where athletes feel motivated to push themselves, learn from mistakes, and celebrate progress.

I focus on fundamentals, strategy, and mental toughness, but I also prioritize building strong relationships with my players. I want them to feel confident, respected, and inspired; not just to win games, but to grow as individuals. Whether it's teaching technique or encouraging leadership, I coach with heart and purpose.
