

Feedback from Kylie Ohlmiller on MSLax Clinic December Clinics

Personally, coming to places like Minnesota and getting the chance to experience lacrosse in new areas is incredibly refreshing. This was my third time in Minnesota, and though I have trained multiple girls from all over the state - one thing remains constant, and that would be the desire to learn and grow their knowledge of the game. Many girls in hot beds for lacrosse refrain from asking questions simply due to the ample amount of exposure to lacrosse and professionals that they receive. Whereas in Minnesota, opportunities like this one are rare and the girls' attention to detail during the clinics is again, very refreshing for someone like myself who lives to teach this game.

The girls' energy was very high, they asked tons of trying questions, and to me both those qualities scream "I want to learn and get better at lacrosse," which is so awesome and respectable! That kind of desire to improve and learn new things is what is going to make great lacrosse players, and what is going to help continue to grow the love for lacrosse across larger numbers in Minnesota and other places like it. I had so much fun getting to know all the girls and seeing their eyes light up when they learned a new tip or trick, can't wait to be back again soon!

Thanks again for having us and for all of your incredibly kind feedback about the trip. Looking forward to getting back out there again in the near future! Tell the girls hi from me!

Best,

Kylie Ohlmiller
