Hockey parents... Or grown ups that still tie on the old skates...

I NEED YOU!!!!!!!

My cousin Sean is a Bantam player in Grand Forks, ND and he was recently (yesterday) diagnosed with cancer. He is currently at the Mayo clinic in Rochester and will remain there with his parents as he begins treatment next week.

Since he will be missing out on at least the beginning of this season and won't be with his hockey friends at home, I was thinking it would be cool to pull together a message for him. And since hockey, especially in Minnesota, is a community, I would love your help with this.

If you are willing... could you take a video of your team, either in unison, or individual players, sending a quick message of support? Just a "get well" or "stay strong" type of message... it could be very simple.

My plan is to then pull all the videos together into a sort of montage of positivity for him and his family...

Who's in?? Don't let me down!! ❤️

15. Mite Update (Brian and Kim)

I am writing to express my gratitude and joy for all the hard work that you have done over the last two months at our Try Hockey For Free events and Learn to Skate Clinics. Many of you were at all the events and your dedication to supporting our new players was appreciated by the families. I spoke with many of the parents yesterday and all of them were complimentary towards the work we are doing on the ice.

I would also like to thank Kim Nau, Nikki Friederich, and Gina Swanson for all their efforts off the ice and in the community. Countless hours were spent organizing, communicating, and promoting our program. Ladies you are the best! Lastly, I need to thank Toby Nelson and Shane Flikke for their hard work in fitting over 50 players with equipment. This behind the scenes work is critical for our growth.

We will welcome nearly 50 mini mites today and have registered over 50 players this seasons. Without all your efforts this is not possible. ACYHA is a great place to play hockey because we give back to the great game of hockey and produce the next generation of WINGS! I look forward to seeing our new players hit the ice today and your efforts made that possible!

In Gratitude,

Brian

16. Tournaments (Susie)

- 2 Squirt A teams cancel for Feb Tourneys

- Thanks for changing schedules and fixing thing that needed updates!
