Re: NWBA CEO Announcement

Dear NWBA Members:

The NWBA Board of Directors has accepted the resignation of Will Waller, CEO/Executive Director – NWBA, effective June 30. Waller has decided to pursue other career opportunities after serving Membership for the last 3 years. Ryan Martin, NWBA Vice President said, “The Board is grateful for the work that Will did to guide the organization through the unprecedented conditions we faced over the last 2 plus years. We are also excited that he plans to stay involved as a member of the NWBA Champions Circle, helping the organization with networking and fundraising.” The Board of Directors will evaluate how best to structure the National Office Team, while at the same time managing the costs of the organization. Please join us in wishing Will the best of luck in his next chapter. Should you have any questions regarding NWBA business operations, or have membership needs, please contact Brandon McBeain, Director, Membership Services & Programs at brandonmcbeain@nwba.org, or by calling the National Office at 1 (719) 266-4082, ext. 108.

Thank you,

Board of Directors
National Wheelchair Basketball Association
