Posted: July 31, 2025

2026 CGAA Traveling Baseball Evaluations

CGAA Baseball is committed to holding a fair and open evaluation process for all eligible traveling baseball players. The evaluation is an opportunity for all players to demonstrate their skills to an independent group of evaluators and to be placed on a team that meets their baseball ability and skill level.

CGAA Baseball has developed the following evaluation process and guidelines for 2026 with the best intentions for the program. Unforeseen circumstances, including but not limited to weather, field conditions, volunteer staffing or other factors, may arise between the time these guidelines are posted and/or during the evaluation process. CGAA Baseball reserves the right to change or amend the timing, format and process as needed in and for the best interest of the program using common sense and fairness in those circumstances.

All players that wish to participate in 2026 Player Evaluations must register via the CGAA Baseball website and SportsEngine platform by August 16 (or August 23 with late fee). A link to register can be found on both the Registrations page and the Traveling page. The cost to participate in 2026 Player Evaluations is $200 (non-refundable fee of $50) if you register between now and August 16 and $225 if you register between August 16 - August 23. The non-refundable fee ($50) covers evaluation costs and shirts for each player. This fee is separate from 2026 Player Registration fees. Team registration details will be announced after 2026 Player Evaluations conclude and teams are formed. Team registration will occur in January 2026.

Team Philosophy

CGAA Baseball will make every attempt to field teams at each level of play, with AAA being the highest, AA second-highest and A third-highest, so long as the prospective teams are and will be competitive with other surrounding communities.

CGAA Baseball will attempt to field one AAA team at each age level, if the talent level is appropriate. If determined by the Board, with input from the Age-Level Coaches and Age-Level Advisors, that the top team in an age level cannot competitively play at the AAA level, the team may be placed at the AA level. Similarly, if based on evaluations, it is determined that any team cannot compete at the A level or would benefit from more development time, the Board may designate them as a Practice and Tournament team that does not compete in MBL league play.

Tim McLeod is the CGAA Baseball Traveling Director. CGAA Baseball has Age-Level Advisors who assist the Traveling Director in organizing the season and communicating with parents. Contact information for these individuals is posted in the Board section of the CGAA Baseball website.

Multiple teams may be formed at the AA or A level if determined by the Traveling Director, with input from Age-Level Head Coaches and Age-Level Advisors, that there is enough talent to support two competitive teams. CGAA Baseball will attempt to form as many A-level teams at each age level with the players at evaluations and including players recruited after evaluations. If multiple teams are formed at any level, the Board will determine if teams are chosen equally with talent or chosen by ranking with the highest scores on one team and subsequent players placed on a second team.

The number of players per traveling team is decided and finalized in concert by the CGAA Baseball President, Traveling Director, Age-Level Advisor and each Age-Level Head Coach. If additional players are needed to fill A-level teams, players may be recruited by the Traveling Director, Age-Level Advisor or Age-Level Head Coach after evaluations to fill out A-level teams. Please note that some players that attend evaluations may not be selected for a traveling team, depending on the number of players at each age level.

CGAA Baseball expects players to play at the highest level according to their skill and play at the level they are suited for based on the evaluation process. Once a player makes a team for a given year, that player will not be moved down during that season.

Once the season begins, teams at the AAA or AA level may lose players due to injury or other circumstances. In such instances where a higher level team can only field 9 players or less, players at the lower levels are subject to be called up to roster spots on the higher team at the higher level coach's request. That said, certain circumstances may dictate that any disagreements on such an issue will be subject to the decision by the Travel Director and an additional two Board Members.

All Traveling teams and players will abide by all CGAA Baseball bylaws, general rules and policies, as well as league rules of Metro Baseball League (MBL) and/or MYAS-Gopher State Baseball League, as applicable to the league each team is playing in.

Player Eligibility

CGAA Baseball players should play on traveling teams with their school grade as of April 30th of the 2026 season as follows:

Grade	9/10	8	7	6	5	4	3	2
Age Level	15U	14U	13U	12U	11U	10U	9U	9U

However, if a player is a year older on April 30th than his grade, he will play at the higher age level, according to age, (not grade), as required by MBL and MYAS league rules. For example, a player that is in 5th grade and is 12 years old as of April 30th, 2026, he must play 12U baseball.

As to players that are younger than their applicable grade level, exceptions may be given to players with exceptional skill desiring to play UP an age level ahead of their grade and age level. Any player desiring to play up an age level beyond their school grade, shall submit a request in writing to the Traveling Director prior to evaluations and must be pre-approved to participate in the evaluation process for the older age level.

9U players that have never played travel baseball before cannot enter traveling at the 10U age level and are expected to begin their traveling baseball experience with their age group. For ages 10U and up, those players desiring to play UP at an age higher than said player will only be eligible to play for one (1) team but must get evaluated in their appropriate age group as well as the age group they wish to play up to. If the player desiring to play up does not make the top team, the option may be given for that player to play at the older age level other teams, depending on their final ranking and both team and age-level needs at the discretion of the Traveling Director, Level Director and Head Coach of said team. If the player is not chosen for any older level team, they will be put back into the lower age level and chosen based on their score and ranking at the lower age level evaluation.

Eight years old (8 years old on April 30th of playing year) is the minimum age to participate in evaluations for 9U teams, however, all 8 year-olds must petition and secure pre-approval in writing to register and participate in evaluations from the Traveling Director and two Board Members.

Cottage Grove baseball 9AA team(s) will focus on development, practicing and scrimmaging throughout the week and playing in at least three tournaments, with the possibility for more. Cottage Grove Baseball will not field a 9AAA or 9A team. Pending evaluations by independent evaluators and the 9AA Head Coach(es), 9AA team(s) may or may not play a traveling league schedule. 9AA travel players will not be permitted to play in the Cottage Grove Baseball In-House League.

Any player that attends an evaluation for another baseball association, or, has been granted a waiver to play for another association, and returns to CGAA Baseball will only be eligible to play on an A-level team, and will only play Traveling baseball if players are needed to fill a roster.

Any player that moves into town after evaluations have concluded, teams are rostered and/or the season has started will be directed to the Traveling Director and Level Advisor for further conversation and potential placement on an existing team.

2026 Player Evaluation Format

Day 1 (September 6) player evaluations will be focused on fundamental skills analysis, administered and scored by independent evaluators and appointed help with no affiliation to the age group being evaluated. After breaking into equally divided groups, players will rotate through:

Day 2 Format

Day 2 (September 7) player evaluations will focus on situational and live game-play. The Board will utilize Day 1 independent evaluation data to place players at each Age-Level into pools of approximately 16 players. The Traveling Director, Age-Level Advisor, selected Age-Level Head Coaches and Traveling Director-appointed help will facilitate Day 2 of Player Evaluations.

Additional Day-Of Evaluation Information

Players should wear weather-appropriate baseball clothing, including baseball pants, cleats, sweatshirt, t-shirt and hat.

Players will receive a t-shirt with a random number on the back. Players are required to wear this t-shirt during evaluations. Players shall not wear any shirt, jersey or hat that indicates they were on any sort of baseball team as part of CGAA Baseball or any other club. Do not have your player wear previous year's CGAA hats or jerseys. Should a player arrive wearing a traveling hat or club hat, that player will be asked to play without it, or, be given a replacement hat upon check in.

Players should bring their own baseball gloves. Players can bring their own bats, subject that they conform to the guidelines located on the Traveling Baseball page of our website: <https://www.cgbaseball.org/page/show/103619-traveling>. If players do not have their own bats, they can use CGAA's bats, which will be available onsite.

Traveling baseball evaluations are CLOSED to parents and guardians. Players should be dropped off 30 minutes before their actual start time so they can sign in at the registration table and receive instructions about where they can warm up.

Parents and guardians shall be instructed to leave the inner perimeter of the fields at Hamlet and in the seating area and hillside at Park High School after dropping their player off and ensuring they are properly checked in. CGAA Baseball reserves the right to ask parents and guardians near the evaluation location to leave before their son can continue with evaluations.

Coaches

Traveling level coaching applications are due by midnight, August 15, 2025. All coaching applications will be reviewed by the CGAA Baseball Board. A separate email will be sent once the Coaching registration link is active. Additional selection committee members shall be appointed by the Traveling Director, as applicable. Coaches may be asked to interview for a prospective position.

Prospective Age-Level Head Coaches will be selected after Day 1 evaluations conclude on September 6, with final coaching determinations based on the stipulations outlined below. Selected Head Coaches are responsible for helping facilitate Day 2 of 2026 Player Evaluations on Sunday, September 7. The names of coaching candidates will not be publicly announced before evaluations. Age-Level Head Coaches will be selected based on experience, knowledge of the game, past involvement, and support of the entire baseball program.

The prospective head coach will NOT actively participate or be on the field during Day 1 of player evaluations but instead shall have the opportunity to observe the independent evaluations from afar with the Age-Level Advisor.

- In order to be a coach for the top team, the coach's son must rank from 1-16 in the evaluation.
- In order to be a coach for the second team, the coach's son must rank from 1-32 in the evaluation.
- In order to be a coach for the third team, the coach's son must rank from 1-48 during the evaluation process. A similar process will continue for subsequent teams.

A coaching applicant that does not have a son in the level in which they are applying for may be considered for any team. All assistant coaches will be selected after Player Evaluations by the Age-Level Head Coaches and Age-Level Advisor (subject to the approval of the Traveling Director) based applicants and what players made what team as outlined in the Player Selection Process. If an assistant coach has no son playing, they may be selected to coach at any level.

Player Selection Process

Independent evaluators will rate each player based on fielding, throwing and hitting skills. Players may be given the option to be evaluated on pitching skills on Day 2. Such opportunities are not guaranteed, but may be utilized depending on the age level and/or in conjunction with other evaluation factors. Previous pitching, hitting, catching and running skills, along with attitude and commitment, may be taken into consideration when determining final teams. The evaluation from the player's previous year's head coach may also be considered.

No Age-Level Head Coaches will be allowed on the field or in the batting cages during Day 1 of player evaluations. Prospective Age-Level Head Coaches and Age-Level Advisors will be allowed to observe player evaluations from afar to take notes but shall have no interaction with any of the evaluators and players. However, Age-Level Head Coaches, Age-Level Advisors and other volunteers will be asked to assist in facilitating evaluations (i.e. organizing kids, hitting baseballs, etc.) in the evaluation age level(s) where the prospective coach does not have a player participating in the evaluations at that time. All coaching applicants are expected to help facilitate evaluations on Day 1 at age levels other than those in which they applied to coach.

Evaluations will be done by a point system. At the end of the session, the scores from the independent evaluators will be totaled and the players will be ranked from highest score to lowest score. Scores will be furnished to the Traveling Director and President, with tiered rankings provided to the Age-Level Advisor and Head Coaches. Evaluation scores will not be made public.

CGAA Baseball plans to post all 2026 rosters no later than Monday, September 22. All teams will be posted on the CGAA Baseball website. After evaluations conclude, please do not call, text or email the Traveling Director, Age-Level Advisors or CGAA Baseball Board asking about team assignments. Please wait for teams to post on our website. Your patience is greatly appreciated.

Additional Player Selection Process Details

Ages 9 to 15

AAA team selections will be made first (if CGAA Baseball determines/fields a AAA team), with AA team selections made second and after the AAA team players are confirmed. A team selections will be made third, after AA team players are confirmed.

The top three (3) players as rated by the independent evaluators will play on the top team. (However, the CGAA Board holds an exception to the top three evaluated players playing on the top team rule for players who are new to CGAA Travel baseball. This would include players coming from another community or from players coming from CG In House baseball. Playing at the wrong level, particularly playing too high a level, can be detrimental to a players' baseball skill development and the longevity of baseball interest. Top team formation that includes players new to CGAA Traveling Baseball will incorporate results from the Sunday portion of evaluations to help better determine the appropriate team for placement.) The remaining players to fill each team will be chosen by each Head Coach with input from the Traveling Director, Age-Level Advisors and based on the final rankings of the independent evaluators and their observations. Additional information may be obtained from previous years' coaches to help in the selection process. Other factors that will be considered are commitment, attitude and team needs.

The same process as above will be followed for forming the AA team and A team. After the AAA team is selected, the remaining top three (3) players as rated by the evaluators will play on AA team and the coach will select from the remaining players to fill said team. After the AA team is selected, the remaining top three (3) players as rated by the evaluators will play on the A team and the coach will select from remaining players to fill said team.

- To be eligible for selection to the AAA team, a player must rank from 1-16 during the evaluation process. Exception: Pitchers and catchers may be chosen to fill a specific team need with the approval of the Traveling Director; the pitcher or catcher must be ranked from 1-18 during the evaluation process and must be considered a primary pitcher or primary catcher.
- To be eligible for selection to the AA team a player must rank in the next top 16 players during the evaluation process. If multiple AA teams are formed, the first team will be selected with the next available top 16 players; after players are confirmed for the first team, the second team will be selected with the next available top 16 players. If determined by the Board that the multiple AA teams are to be formed equally, the AA coaches must select players alternately from the next available 32 players.
- The A team will be filled through a similar procedure as the AA teams. There is no guarantee that all players who participate in evaluations will be assigned to a team, but CGAA Baseball will make every reasonable effort to do so, including adjusting roster sizes within an age level and recruiting players after evaluations.

Evaluation Waivers

Any player who has a scheduling conflict and cannot participate in 2026 CGAA Traveling Baseball Player Evaluations on September 6-7 at the prescribed time for their age level MUST submit a Waiver Request (LINK BELOW). This waiver must be submitted by Sunday, August 31.

All waiver requests will be reviewed and assessed by the CGAA Baseball President, Traveling Director and Age-Level Advisor. Waiver approvals or denials will be communicated in writing to the email provided in this form. Simply submitting a waiver request does not imply a waiver has or will be granted. Waiver requests will be highly scrutinized. The CGAA Baseball Board has the sole discretion to either approve or deny a waiver request.

As CGAA Baseball has communicated with other CGAA Sports Divisions regarding evaluations and schedules, example waivers that are more likely to be approved are and should be related to unique out-of-town commitments and other once-in-a-lifetime opportunities (family wedding, etc.). Waivers requests related to other ongoing off-season sports commitments, including MBL Fall Ball, or routine events, such as games, practices, etc., may or may not be approved.

Additionally, any player granted a special circumstance/conflict waiver must participate in a re-scheduled player evaluation on Tuesday, September 9. Additional time and location details TBD (though it will be in the evening). This make-up session will be mandatory and led by members of the CGAA Baseball Board, Age-Level Advisors and/or Age-Level Coaches.

As stipulated in the Evaluation Guidelines above, any player that does not participate in Player Evaluations during the regularly scheduled time and/or during a make-up session will be subject to placement on a lower team, or placed in the in-house program.

For medical waivers, a letter from a licensed physician providing the basis for requesting the waiver must be provided. Medical waiver requests will be handled on a case-by-case basis (including team placement), with all medical waivers and team placement subject to approval by the CGAA Baseball President, Traveling Director and Age-Level Advisor. Waivers will ONLY be granted if notification is made to the Traveling Director PRIOR to the scheduled evaluation time. Please complete the form at the link below and email the Traveling Director requesting your medical waiver as soon as possible. The Traveling Director will inform all Age-Level Advisors and Age-Level Coaches if a medical waiver has been granted. Players that become ill or injured during evaluations will be handled on a case-by-case basis.

Teams are not required to pick up medical evaluation waiver players or players that are unable to complete a player evaluation due to any other circumstance. In order for a waiver player to make a Traveling team, careful consideration about the player's ability had they been able to participate will be used, including but not limited to discussions with current and past coaches. After the CGAA President, Traveling Director and Age-Level Advisor have considered the player's ability, it will be compared with the evaluations of current year participants at evaluations. Based upon this comparison, a final decision will be made on the player's team placement. Further, please note that while the evaluators at the make-up session will do their best to fairly evaluate all players, by nature of not competing directly against the other boys at the regular evaluations, said players are subject to potential disadvantages to make the team that they desire. Likewise, if a player is new to travel baseball, the same disadvantages inherent in any makeup session will also apply.

PLEASE COMPLETE A SEPARATE WAIVER REQUEST FOR EACH PLAYER.
